

Obituary

Born: Monday, October 22, 1979

Died: Sunday, March 3, 2019

Leighann Rose McCoy, 39, of the Birdtown Community died Sunday March 3, 2019, of a drug overdose and after a life long battle with substance use disorder and mental health issues.

We, her family know that Leighann was saved many years ago and had recently rededicated her life to Jesus. Leighann faced many battles but could not break the chains of this demon that is wiping out a generation. Addiction doesn't discriminate, it will take hold and destroy anyone in its path including families and people who love them. Leighann is not just another statistic or "one gone to soon", she had a loving, caring heart and the most beautiful green eyes you can imagine. She didn't want to die, she had plans for living life. She loved her family deeply and believed in second chances, maybe because she craved another chance for herself and others suffering from the same disease that took her life. Leighann served her country in the United States Navy before coming home to being a full time mom of four beautiful children.

Leighann is survived by her mother, Ruth McCoy (Tim Taylor); her children, Ashton Brady (Age 15), Bobby Jo Brady (Age 10), Kaleighla Ray Brady (Age 9), and Samuel Brady (Age 6); Brothers, Kallup McCoy, II and Steve McCoy; Sisters, Angela McCoy Duncan, Kerry McCoy, and Edna Hornbuckle; her nanny, Suzanne Hornbuckle; her spouse of many years, Bobby Brady; biological father, Jack Hornbuckle; several aunts & uncles; and her favorite Aunt Leslie Caron.

She was preceded in death by her Dad, Kallup McCoy, Sr.; Paternal grandparents, Frank and Nellie Lambert McCoy; John and Edna Locust Hornbuckle; Maternal Grandparents, Stacy Sequoyah Queen and Lloyd and Lizzie Sequoyah; her papaw Jim Hornbuckle; and several aunts and uncles.

Visitation will be held on Thursday, March 7, 2019 from 11 AM until 12 Midnight at the Bethabara Baptist Church. Funeral services will be held on Friday, March 8, 2019 at 12 Noon. Kallup McCoy, II, and pastors Matt Huett and Greg Morgan will officiate.
